What Should Patients Expect After Treatment?

Post-procedure, the treated tissue will temporarily feel cold and firm. Patients may experience significant pain after treatment. Bruising, soreness, tenderness, cramping, and a “pins and needles” sensation can occur. These side effects usually resolve within 2 to 3 weeks, but may last up to a month. In the days and weeks following treatment, the patient may experience a delayed onset of these symptoms, which could persist up to several weeks.

Contact us at 202-621-8675 or email mcelaser@gmail.com if you have any burning sensation that is bothersome that occurs 3-5 days post treatment
